

Dear Members

As promised when DLS or OSHA makes us aware of free training we will be passing it on to you so that you can gauge your interest in attending. We realize this is geared to manufacturing but some information provided would apply to municipal operation.

From DLS

There is FREE machine guarding training in Springfield on August 21, 2018. This class is hosted by the Massachusetts OSHA Consultation Program, and open to public sector departments. Applicable departments include wastewater treatment plants, drinking water – anyone with conveyors, pumps, and other moving parts.

The training is hosted by Massachusetts Department of Labor Standards, but the training is delivered by the Georgia Tech consultation program under an OSHA grant.
