Dan Tilton is the National Safety Director for the Tilton Equipment Company headquartered in Rye New Hampshire.

Dan's association with chain saws began early in his life as both his father and grandfather made their livelihoods in the chain saw business. In 1977, at the age of 17, Dan went to the forests of Sweden and trained under two internationally renowned forestry experts before returning to the US to begin his tenure as a Safety Instructor.

For over 35 years, Dan has traveled extensively across the eastern U.S. training woodcutters at all levels of experience in

Demonstration of proper working techniques for cutting weeds, brush and saplings
