Massachusetts Commission
Against Discrimination

This seminar will be led by Alison Caton, Trainer for the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination (MCAD) It will teach participants about the main forms of discrimination in the workplace and how to respond. It is geared toward supervisory personnel but open to everyone. It is an interactive class with a lot of participation. Participants will learn about the following:

- How to identify potential issues of discrimination in the workplace.
- The importance of an internal policy that is communicated to all employees.
- What triggers the duty to investigate?
- How to apply your internal policy and the law in your workplace.
- The role of the MCAD.

Trainer

Alison Caton is a Trainer for the Massachusetts Commission Against Discrimination (MCAD). The Commission conducts approximately two to three hundred external training sessions each year.

Attendance at this seminar qualifies the MIIA member for 1% credit under the FY19 MIIA Rewards Program under Public Officials Liability, School Board Liability or Law Enforcement Liability categories.
